

SALES ENGINEER

If you are an enterprising engineer who wants to get out from behind a desk...

If you enjoy working with people and solving complex problems...

Consider...
Logic, Inc.

Logic Headquarters in Olathe, KS

Sales Engineering

Sales engineers are seen as consultants. With strong technical and communication skills, we establish and foster long-term customer relationships. We bring value to our customers by understanding their needs, demonstrating and promoting highly technical products, and maintaining strong communication throughout the implementation of projects.

Logic Engineer Diagnosing a Machine

Logic Rep Installing HMI at Customer Site

Our Competitive Edge

Customers team with Logic because we employ outgoing engineers to create technological solutions. We offer superior service, products, and other value-add activities:

- Decentralized product training
- Advanced technical support
- Onsite pre/post sales assistance
- Progressive quote-creation technology

Why Engineers?

Logic starts with the fundamentals you've learned in school about technology and problem solving. We then train you on systems and products we promote in order to solve customers' hardest automation problems .

Our tagline really says it all:

Engineers promoting solutions to ensure your success in automation projects.

Benefits

- Logic contributes up to an additional 15% (of your salary) to a retirement plan- not a match, it just happens!
- 401k is available for those who wish to save more.
- Two bonuses are paid based on the profitability of the entire company instead of commission-based compensation.
- We offer a comprehensive medical plan with only a 1% premium for employee and family coverage.
- No cramped or shared cubicles! Private offices are offered to every employee.
- Opportunities to get out of the office to see new and exciting applications of our technology are available daily.
- Your company vehicle, laptop, and cell phone can all be used personally.
- You will work with many different industries and have opportunities to grow

Logic Team Greeting Attendees at the Open House

About Logic

Logic, Inc. was founded in 1981, by Bob VanLandingham who sold automation controllers from the back of his Ford.

Now, we have grown to nearly 40 employees and have offices in 5 cities. We're a high-tech, fast-growing, smaller company that invests in our employees to promote responsibility and team work.

What Our Employees Say:

"No other job opportunity offers the diversity of applications and vision into manufacturing environments as this—it's 'How It's Made' up close and personal."

-Kris (with Logic since 1991)

"Logic takes good care of customers and employees. I can't imagine working anywhere else."

-Carrie (with Logic since 2004)

Contact Logic if you...

- enjoy interacting with people,
- want to apply technology firsthand,
- desire a family atmosphere.

890 N. Mart-Way Ct.

Olathe, KS 66061

(913) 764-4400

salescareer@logic-control.com

www.logic-control.com/employment.php

