Training

Comprehensive Instruction for Using and Maintaining our Automation Software

Logic offers a unique curriculum of training classes. Our classes are all either one or two days in length and offered at various times, allowing you to fit your training into your schedule with minimal impact to your company.
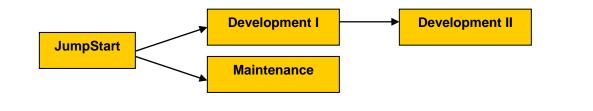

JumpStart

Your first class is the JumpStart. This is a one-day introductory training class that gets you up and running. For some people, this may be the only class you'll need.

Development

This two-day class is the follow-on class for users that will be developing applications. It extends the JumpStart's introduction, delving into more detail and adding more content. We offer multiple Development classes (Dev I, Dev II, etc) to add increasingly more advanced material.

Maintenance

This alternative two-day class is also a follow-on to the JumpStart, but is for users that will be maintaining a system and not necessarily developing applications. It focuses on installation, migration, maintaining and troubleshooting systems.

Our standard classes cost $500 per student per day, held at all of our facilities. We can also offer these classes at your facility with a minimum of 5 students. Customized training classes can be structured to focus more specifically on your system and needs. Customized training is quoted on an individual basis.

Our 3-month training schedule is published each quarter. You can find it on our website at www.logic-control.com. For more information, email training@logic-control.com.
